HIGHLIGHTS

As we mark another year of learning and adventure at VINS, we reflect on the ongoing environmental changes shaping our world. In response, we are expanding our research efforts on our campuses and throughout the state to better understand these shifts. As an environmental organization, we are hopeful for the future and committed to helping our communities adapt to the changing climate. By engaging more deeply in environmental conservation and partnering with like-minded organizations, we aim to increase knowledge of the natural world through innovative field studies and collaboration.

Between our Nature Center in Quechee and our Old Pepper Place Nature Reserve in Washington, we are well-positioned to observe and record natural trends over the years. These two unique sites generate valuable data through our research projects, building a dataset that will be vital for understanding and preserving ecosystems for future generations.

GROWTH IN EDUCATION & LEADERSHIP TRANSITION

The VINS Education Department continues to exceed expectations with its range of learning opportunities. From school programs, on-site education, and community outreach to nature camps and field trips, our offerings have expanded rapidly. The growth of these programs has resulted in a record number of participants this fiscal year, reaching across New England and beyond. Our efforts are making a significant impact by inspiring more people to appreciate the natural world and engage in conservation.

As we celebrate these successes, we also acknowledge a change in leadership. Mary Davidson Graham, who served as Assistant Executive Director, will transition to a consulting role. At the same time, we welcome Brooke Duffy as our new Senior Director of Development, bringing valuable experience to our fundraising efforts.

VINS FOREST OF LIGHTS

In November, we launched the second season of our popular exhibit – Forest of Lights. Visitors can experience the magic of thousands of lights illuminating the Forest Canopy Walk after dark. With expanded hours and days, we hope to welcome even more guests to this enchanting nighttime experience. This one-of-a-kind event offers a unique perspective on nature in a serene and beautifully lit atmosphere.

AMERICAN KESTREL MONITORING PROJECT

The summer of 2023 marked the end of the third season of our American Kestrel Monitoring Project. In late July, our research staff banded two male kestrel nestlings in Norwich, Vermont, wrapping up the season with a significant achievement. In this fiscal year, we banded 51 nestlings and 11 adult kestrels across 13 occupied boxes in Vermont and New Hampshire, making it our most productive season yet.

As part of the banding process, we fitted each bird with standard aluminum bands from the US Geological Survey and color bands that allow for easier identification from a distance. This enables researchers to track where the kestrels travel after the breeding season and monitor whether the same pairs return to the boxes in following years. We also collected feathers from adult birds to test for mercury levels, in collaboration with Middlebury College.

While we are still in the early stages of monitoring kestrel populations, our project is growing each year. By installing nest boxes, we hope to provide alternative breeding sites and help bolster kestrel populations, especially as habitat loss continues.

BROAD-WINGED HAWK PROJECT

VINS was honored to collaborate with Hawk Mountain Sanctuary in Pennsylvania on the Broad-winged Hawk Project. The project focuses on tracking broad-winged hawks, the species that serves as the VINS logo, to study their migration patterns and nesting success.

Our staff and volunteers spent months identifying active hawk territories, and we successfully trapped three birds to gather important data. One bird was fitted with a GPS transmitter, which will provide crucial information on their migratory routes. All three birds were also color-banded to allow for future identification and tracking.

SCHOOL SPOTLIGHT

VINS has partnered with Lyme Nursery School in New Hampshire for 13 years, providing early childhood programs such as Wee Wonders and Small Wonders. This collaboration has helped children build a deeper connection with nature through hands-on learning, and their enthusiasm for VINS programs continues to grow.

MUSIC & SCIENCE IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

At VINS, we recognize the importance of making learning fun and engaging, particularly for our youngest learners. That's why we've integrated music into all our early childhood science lessons. Each VINS educator plays the ukulele to accompany the songs that are woven into our lessons. From singing about squirrels to gathering pinecones, these activities help children absorb scientific concepts while also developing early literacy skills.

NEW PROGRAM – STEAM BACKPACKS

Thanks to the support of the Dorr Foundation, we launched a new program in the fall of 2023 – STEAM Backpacks. Designed specifically for homeschooling families, these backpacks provide all the tools and resources needed for hands-on, nature-based learning. Each backpack is tailored to a specific theme, such as Nature Explorer, Insects, Birds, Geology, Tracking, and the Day and Night Sky.

These backpacks will give children the tools to explore the outdoors and answer their questions about the natural world. We hope the program encourages families to spend more time outdoors, fostering a deeper connection to nature and science.

VINS NATURE CAMP

VINS Nature Camp has seen an exciting return of overnight camp programs, giving children the chance to spend extended periods away from home while connecting with nature. Our overnight camps take place on a 327-acre conserved property known as the Old Pepper Place Nature Reserve, where campers cook over campfires, sleep under the stars, and build memories that will last a lifetime.

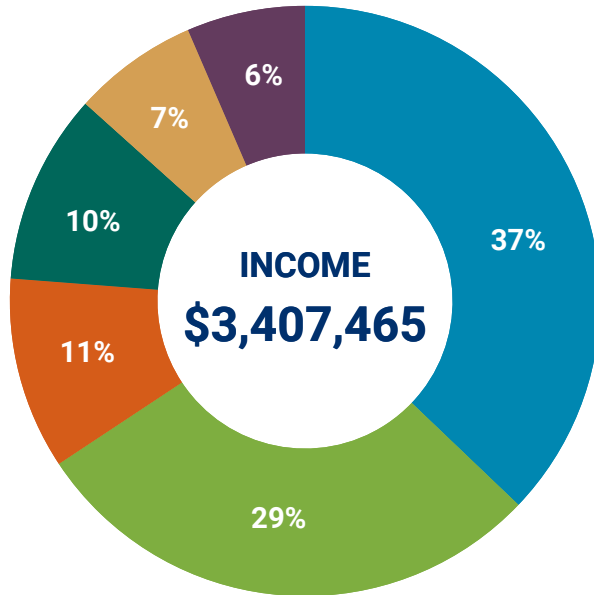

SUPPORT DRIVES OUR MISSION

As we move forward, VINS is grateful for the support of our community, volunteers, and partners who help make our research, education, and conservation efforts possible.
